WHERE POSSIBILITIES TAKE FLIGHT

Volunteer!

LiveWorkPlay.ca is a leading-edge charitable organization that helps the community welcome people with intellectual disabilities, autistic persons and people with dual diagnosis to live, work and play as valued citizens.

Our goal is to bring people together in the community (volunteers) and our clients (members) based on common interest to help build social networks. The idea is to foster relationships and social opportunities for our members and create reciprocal relationships.

Your relationship with our members will be of mutual benefit. We try to get to know our volunteers and to match each volunteer with opportunities for them to make a meaningful contribution while having fun.

One on One Matching: getting to know someone we support on a one to one basis doing something of common interest. Things like, cooking, fitness (walking, running, gym), movies, coffee and chat, concerts, and many more. This is typically a once a week, to once every other week commitment and is meant to be long term. We base matches on common interest, personality and area of town.

Friday Nights: A great way to get to know many different people. We organize 8 different activities all over the city every Friday night! See a movie, go for dinner, watch a hockey game, go to the theatre...many options and locations to choose from. Go every week or once a month – this is a very flexible opportunity meant for short or long term volunteers.
