Join us for Project SEARCH information sessions on November 9th and 23rd

Are you a student with an intellectual or developmental disability ready to transition into the workforce, or a parent/caregiver looking to support your child's next steps?

Join us to learn about Project SEARCH, a one-year transition program designed to help young adults gain marketable job skills. Participants gain hands-on work experience at The Ottawa Hospital's Civic Campus through a series of internship rotations, classroom instruction, and post-graduation employment support.

Who it's for: OCDSB-enrolled (or eligible) students with an intellectual or developmental disability between the ages of 18–20, who are in their last year of school.

For detailed information about the program and eligibility criteria, visit our Project SEARCH webpage.

This program is a partnership between the OCDSB, Project SEARCH, The Ottawa Hospital, and LiveWorkPlay.

Upcoming information sessions

Parents, caregivers, and students are invited to join us in person or virtually to learn about the program and application process, and get answers to their questions. Registration is not required.
